From tots to teens, London has a great range of furniture and accessory shops to suit all ages and styles

SHOP FOR CLASSIC WOOD FURNITURE

ASPACE's Chiswick store is a great shopping destination, especially if you've got the little ones with you, as it has lots of wooden toys to play with and plenty of child-friendly cafés close by. It offers a wide choice of furniture, including the most popular bed ranges: Porterhouse bunks (pictured), £995; Belvoir, £450; and the Warwick high sleeper, £1,000. We also loved the Lulworth bed, £375; Stars toy box, £95; and matching armchair with footstool, £120. Delivery and assembly can be arranged for a day to suit, and look out for the winter sale when there will be big discounts.

Aspace, 140 Chiswick High Road W4 1PU (020 8994 5814; aspace.co.uk). OPEN Mon to Sat 10am to 6pm; Sun 11am to 5pm

SPEND HOURS BROWSING

NEXT HOME on Tottenham Court Road is a huge homeware store, with plenty of fully coordinated roomsets to browse. We loved the ranges with City Cars accessories, from £20 bed-linen set, a stripe lamp (pictured), £20, and sport bedstead for £225. For girls, we found pretty patchwork curtains from £25 with matching lampshade, £15, and bed linen set, £25.

Next Home, 220-224 Tottenham Court Road W1T 7PZ (0844 844 5130; next.co.uk). OPEN Mon, Tues, Wed, Fri 9.30am to 8pm; Thurs 9.30am to 9pm; Sat 9am to 8pm; Sun 12pm to 6pm

GO FOR THE FULL DESIGN SERVICE

BOBO KIDS stocks an eclectic range of furnishings. You'll find cots and beds (take a look at the smart vintage-style bed, £795, pictured), plus desks, wardrobes and shelving units. There are unusual fabrics, rugs, cushions, bed linen and wallpaper, too, plus paint and artwork. There's also a full design service, with an initial meeting in store to discuss your needs, which is followed up with a home visit and a 3-D design plan. It costs £200, but this is refundable if you go ahead with the project. Look out for the company's bespoke range, which it's about to launch.

Bobo Kids, 29 Elystan Street SW3 3NT (020 7838 1020; bobokids.co.uk). OPEN Mon to Sat 10am to 6pm
